"We are setting out for Schoenstatt"

We carry the flame into the future

The five covenant tents: Youth, Pedagogy, Family, Society and Church all have the same vision, to show how the lived covenant of love is alive! As the Schoenstatt Movement we are going to bring our missionary and apostolic projects from all over the world as covenant gifts. These are the fruits which have developed from our covenant of love. The tents are an expression of our gratitude and depict what "nothing without us" means. However, one question still remains: Which covenant gift am I personally going to make? Which projects do I want to participate in? Which initiatives am I going to stand up for and where do I want to carry the flame to? Join us on our way! We invite you to stand up for something every day.

My thoughts - when putting my shoes on:

Who or what am I going to stand up for today?

As International Schoenstatt Youth we will set out every month to fulfil a new resolution.

to go

- * The large trees next to the Original Shrine have been cut down. These trees experienced nearly 100 years of Schoenstatt history...
- * The statement of the month every 18th: Take a look at your national Schoenstatt homepage. Check out our two volunteers Wayne (USA) and Alice (Hungary)!
- * The covenant tent meeting proved there is still a lot to do in Schoenstatt. Please pray for those involved and responsible for the covenant tents...

I am coming to the jubilee ...

I am going to join the Jubilee because I have been at the Night of the Shrine for the last three years and the atmosphere there was just great. So 2014 is a definite yes. When so many people are coming to the Original Shrine from all over the world to rekindle the fire that Father Kantenich set ablaze in the young students 100 years ago, then I want to be there to carry that flame back to Switzerland.

(Pascal Gabriel, 24 years, Switzerland)

Why am I going to come? I am coming to say thank you to Father Kantenich, for his courage to follow the will of God, otherwise we wouldn't be here today. I am coming to celebrate ... with all the Schoenstatt family members and experience Schoenstatt in a new way. I am coming to thank Our Lady that she chose me to be a part of Schoenstatt.

(Rocio Erdmann, 27 years, Spain)

Get involved!

Why not click on "like" on our Jubilee Facebook pages: Youth 2014, Night of the Shrine and und La Noche del Santuario. This is where the volunteers and Youth Team 2014 will keep you posted!

On your marks! Get set! Go!

Further volunteers arrived in Schoenstatt: Sumaya from Brazil and Angel from Paraguay.

"The Night of Expectations" is from the 17th to the 18th of October: The Schoenstatt Girl's Youth will present their jubilee gift to Our Lady - a small RTA-Crown - which will be placed in the Original Shrine. The Schoenstatt Boy's Youth will make a torch light procession from the Founder Chapel to the Original Shrine in the valley.

At the entrance of the youth tent every visitor will receive an individual starter kit. It is definitely worth a visit!
